

CORRECT SADDLE GIRTH CARE

Every quality product requires particularly good care in order to preserve its high quality properties for as long as possible. Passier Leather Saddle Girths should therefore be cleaned thoroughly at least every five days after riding, on the contact side with the horse as well as the outer side. Subsequently Passier Lederbalsam should be applied. In order to protect the quality leather, and avoid any additional damage, please use Passier Saddle Soap and Passier Lederbalsam exclusively.

1. Cleaning of the outer side

Moisten sponge with saddle soap and water and clean the outside of all leather parts.

2. Turn the saddle girth over

Extremely important: Remember to turn the saddle girth over because most of the dirt becomes embedded in the folds!

3. Cleaning of the inner side

It is important to clean the inside especially thoroughly because this is the side which has contact with the horse.

4. Drying of the outer side

After cleaning with saddle soap and water, the outside must be dried thoroughly.

5. Turn the saddle girth over

Here the same applies: Turn the saddle girth over and pay particular attention to the folds in the leather!

6. Drying of the inner side

Also dry the inside of the saddle girth carefully using a soft cloth.

7. Care of the outer side

Lederbalsam is to be applied to the outside of all leather parts using a good quality brush which will not shed hairs.

8. Turn the saddle girth over

And turn the saddle girth over again – and flatten out the folds.

9. Care of the inner side

Lederbalsam is also to be applied to the inside of all leather parts.

10. Absorption time

Allow approx. 15 minutes for Passier Lederbalsam to be absorbed into the leather.

11. Finishing touch to the outer side

Using a woolen cloth, wipe over the outside of the saddle girth in order to remove any Lederbalsam residue.

12. Turn the saddle girth over

Turn the saddle girth over again.

13. Finishing touch to the inner side

A woolen cloth should also be used to remove any Lederbalsam from the inside which has not yet been absorbed.

14. Ready!

A perfectly cared for Passier Leather Saddle Girth not only looks good, it also lasts for a very long time!
